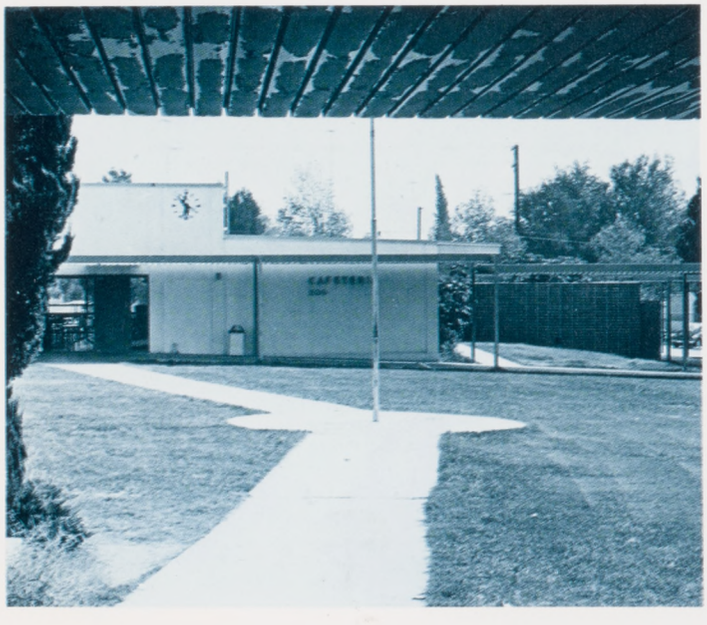
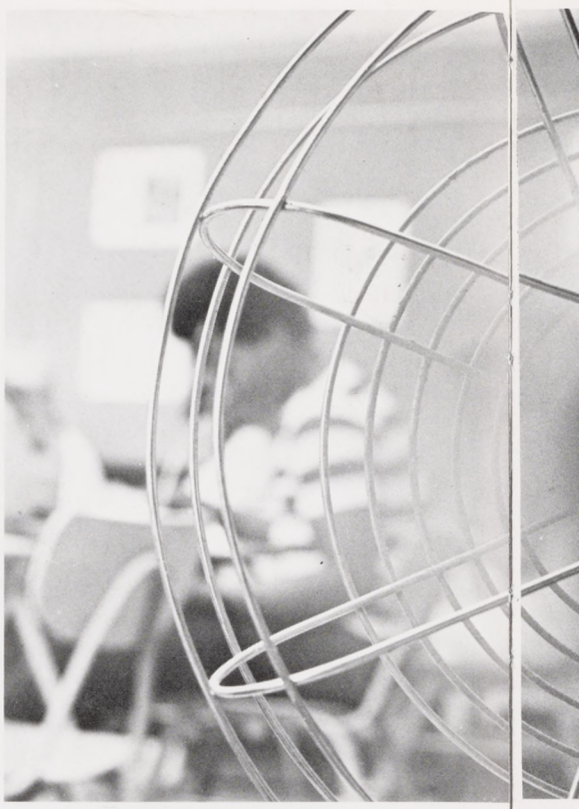
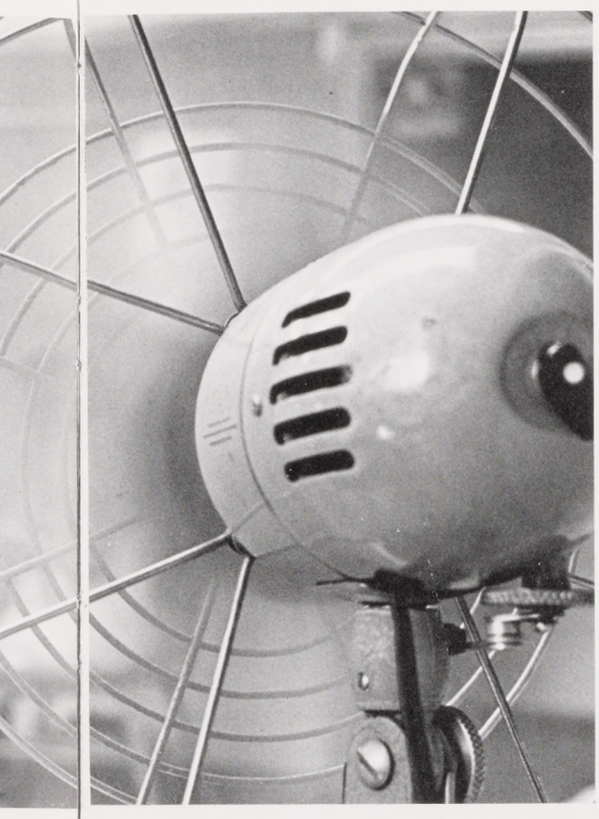
There In The Soft,
Glimmering Sun . . .
Stood The Quiet,
Empty Campus . . .



Curiously . . .
Awaiting . . .
Our Return . . .

And Then, In The Midst Of The Dying Summer . . .

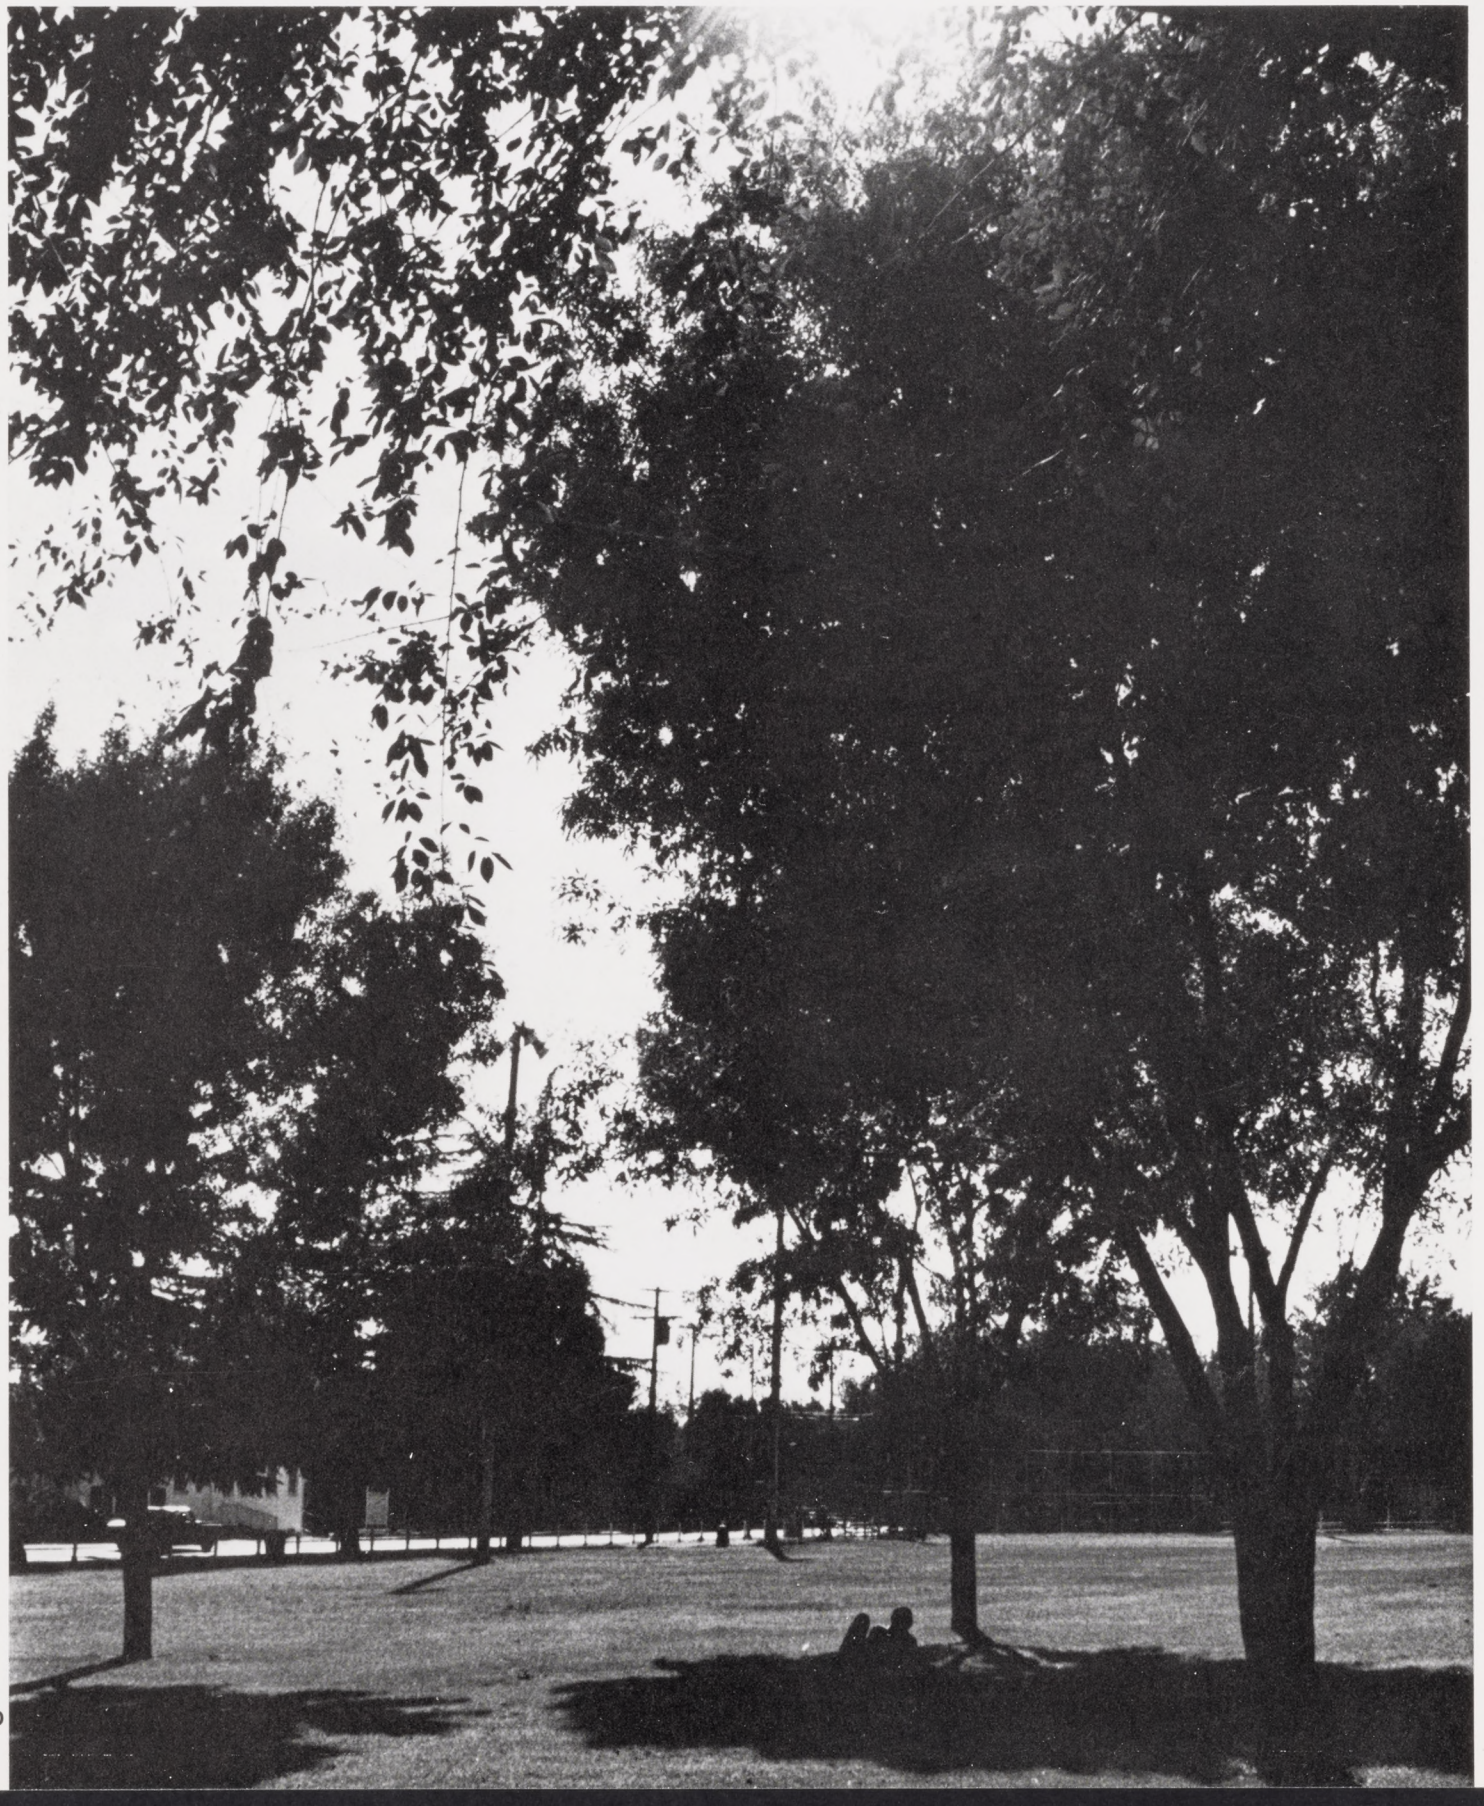




Full Of Anticipation, We Came . . .

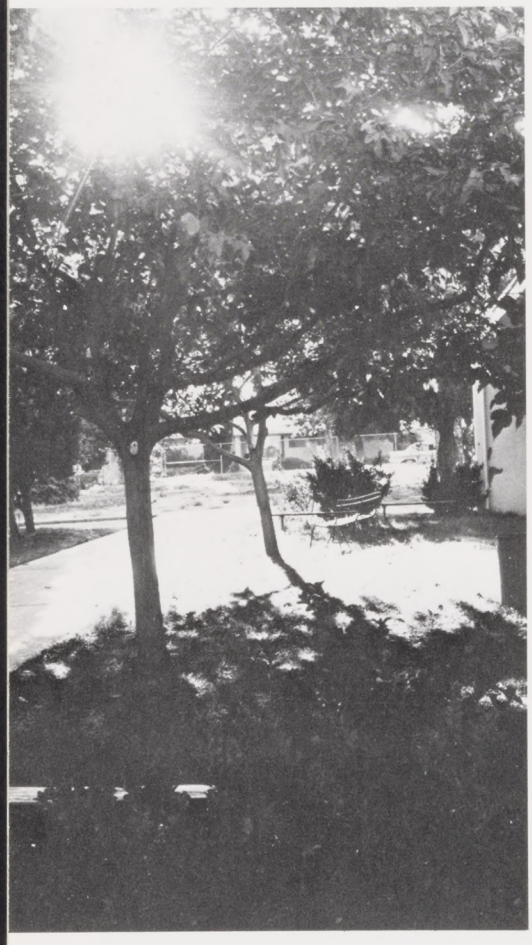
NG HIGH SCHOOL
ADMINISTRATION

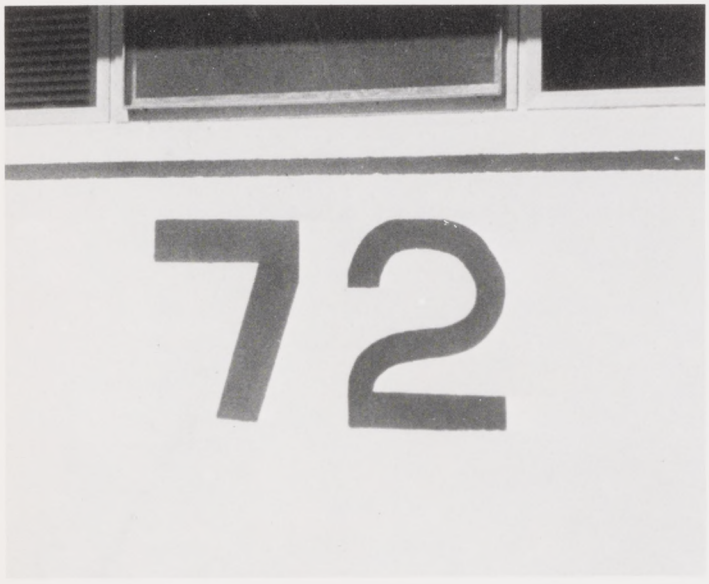
With All The Twisted Emotions, Of The Lingering Summer . . .

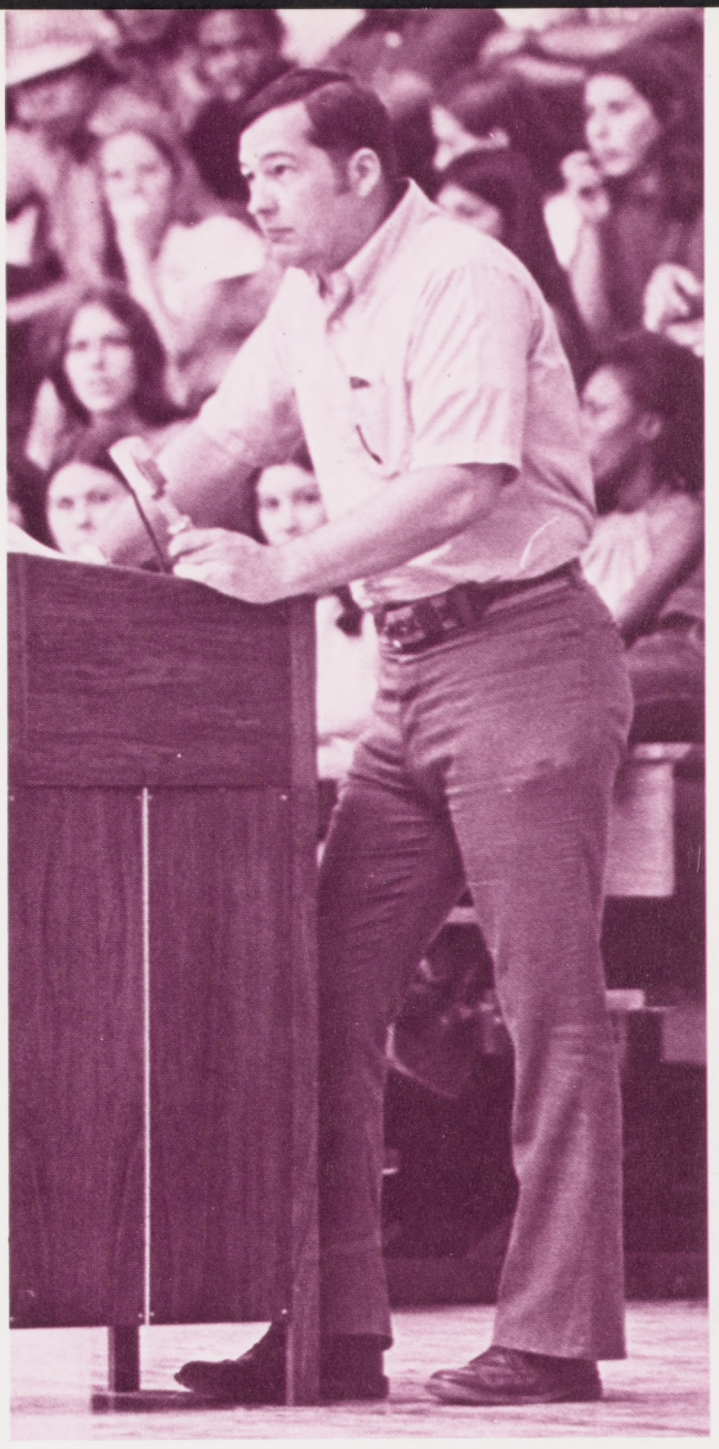


Still Fresh, On Our Minds . . .

But Even Though We Enter . . .
And Become Lost In Our Daily Routines . . .

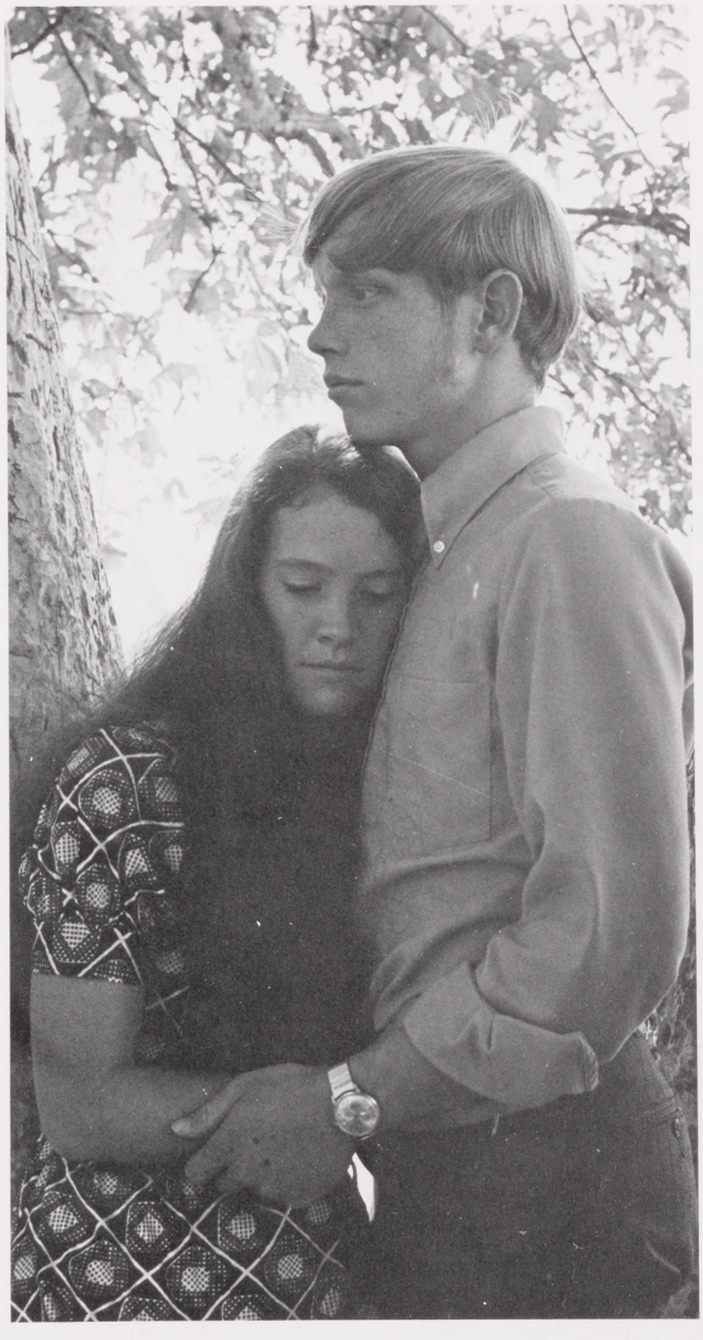






There Are Still Doubts . . .

And It Is These Doubts That We Must Conquer . . .



With The Help Of Our Brothers . . . And A Never Dying Faith In The Future!!!

In Dedication

"It takes a combination of many victories over human nature to gain the admiration of the young. A Vice-Principal who is dedicated to his work and serves as a pattern by which students can hope to mold themselves into useful men and women is a person deserving of great respect and honor."

We have dedicated our annual to Mr. James Heslop. He has been working in the Banning School District for the past six years going on seven. He has shown loyalty to his responsibilities as Vice-Principal of B.H.S.

A witty sense of humor and a "cool" personality are excellent qualities that we students look for in a leader.

Mr. Heslop has been an Athletic Director, Assistant Coach, Coach of Varsity Baseball, Assistant Principal at Susan B. Coombs Junior High School, and is presently the Vice-Principal of Banning High School.

Mr. Heslop is a real camping enthusiast and his hobby is golf. He loves chocolate cake, steak, and especially his wife's cooking. He thinks his family and pets are absolutely super!! For those long hours after school he keeps a large bottle of Excedrin.

Never-the-less, Mr. Heslop is a man in himself. His future plans are to continue to work in the administration of B.H.S.

D.A.L. Representative

This year Student Council did their best to make Banning High a better school. They planned a drainage system in the quad, and also an open campus. The governing body only wishes that more students would take an active part in Student Government.

House Of Representatives

At the beginning of each year, one student is selected out of each 2nd period class to represent their class in the House of Representatives. The house works closely with the Student Body so that they might carry out the wishes of the students.

The origin of all petitions starts in the house and after they have decided on it, it is sent to the student council and then finally on to the school board. The House of Representatives is here to serve the student body.

JANE LITTELL, Editor

Stampede Staff

One of the aims of the Stampede Staff of 1971-72 under the leadership of the editor, Jane Littell, was to attain and maintain some degree of professionalism. They have increased both, production and circulation this year. They have worked hard to bring out each issue regularly.

The 1971-72 annual staff started work on the yearbook early last summer. It was through a lot of hard work, late hours, laughter, tears, unanimous agreement, and bitter disagreement; and finally pride that we bring you this yearbook.

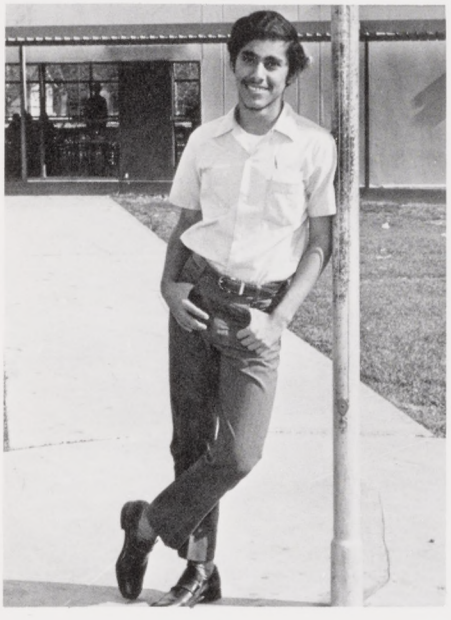
The 1971-72
YEARBOOK STAFF

Foreign Exchange Student

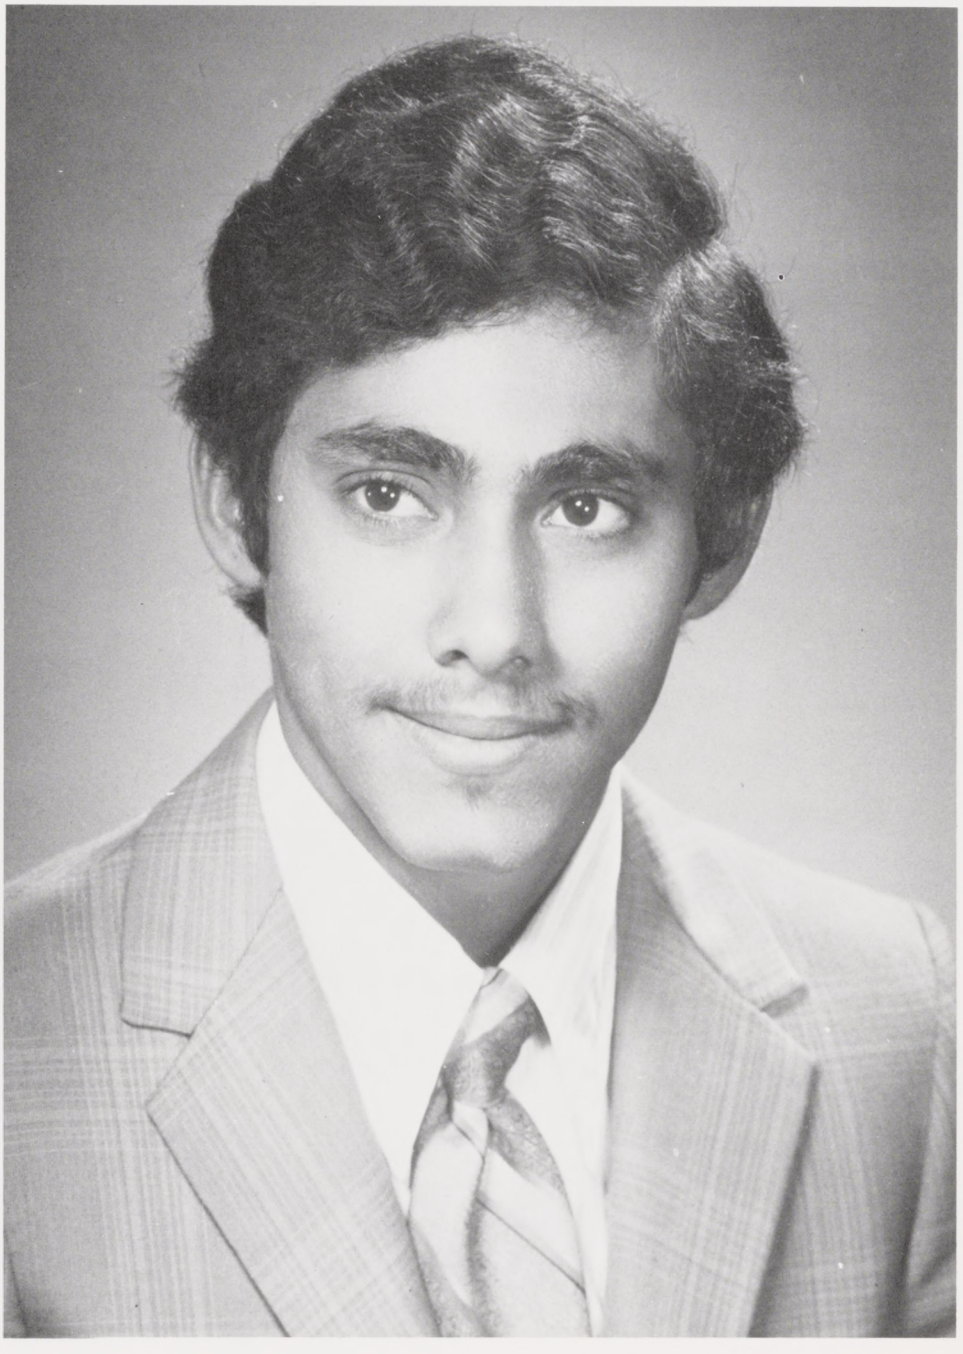
One of the happiest days of my life was when I found at home, the notice that I could come to Banning. Since then many questions have come to me. What will my new city be like? What are the people like?

Finally I arrived and since the time that I have been here I have found that this country and its people are beautiful. I will never forget the things that I have learned to love.

I am thankful for the great opportunity that A.F.S., the community and my friends have given me. Banning will always remain in my heart and mind forever.



FREDY MARTINEZ



Miss Banning

DEBBIE ANDERSON

The Queen of this year's Stagecoach days is Miss Deborah Sue Anderson.

Debbie was crowned Miss Banning on Sept. 29, 1971. The brown haired, blue-eyed queen said that she feels that the most important thing about being Miss Banning is the experience that she would gain by working with other people.

Debbie has been active this year in the Spanish Club; Model UN; A.F.S.; and Interact. She is also the President of the senior class.

After graduating, Debbie plans to go to San Luis Obispo School of Architectural Engineering.

Marching Bronco Band

The band this year has contributed a lot to the school spirit. They have performed at all of the football games and have showed their great spirit at the assemblies. The band is under the direction of Mr. Adams. This is his first year teaching at Banning and he is greatly responsible for the magnificent job the band has done this year.

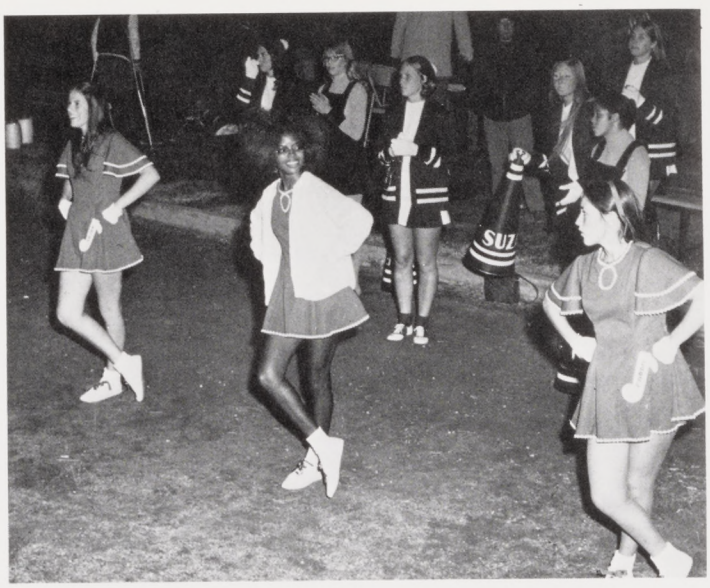
The 1971 Banning Broncos had an interesting football campaign this season. The Broncos had more potential than the teams of past years. They had many things going for them: Experienced lettermen, a good attitude, and the incentive of player of the week.

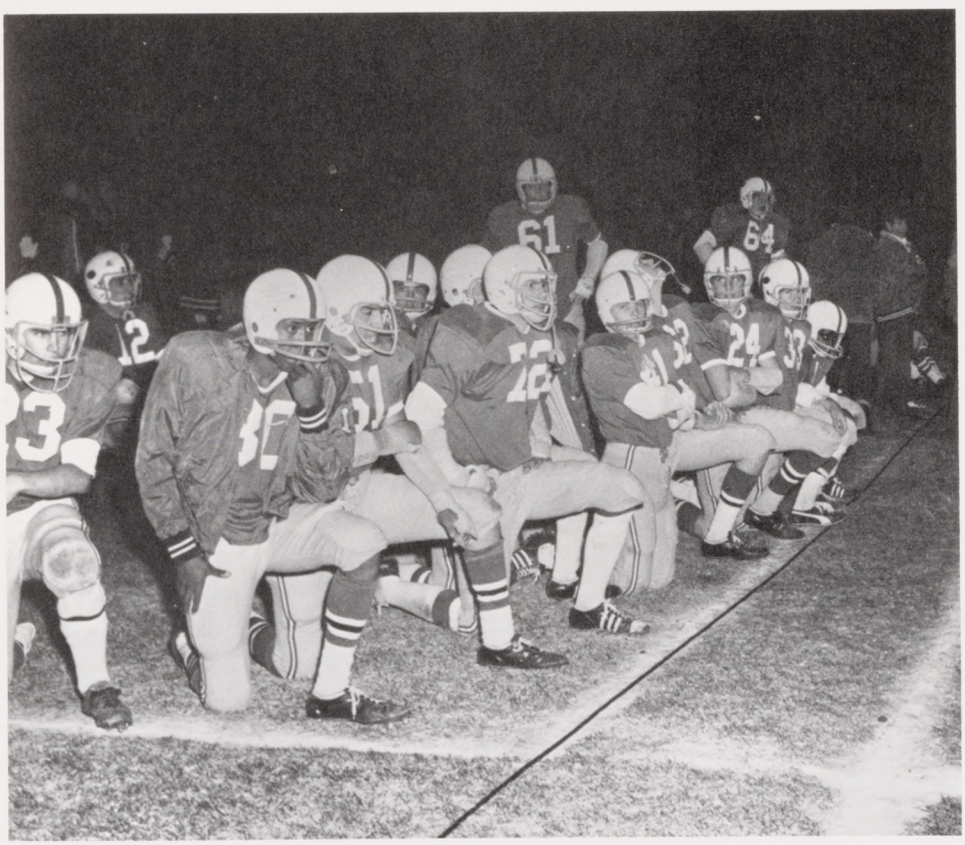
As usual the Broncos faced strong opposition in the pre-season. Playing schools twice their size, they fought hard and had many defeats, but gained experience.

On September 24 the Broncos traveled to Indio for the first game of the season. Both teams fought hard, but the Broncos were defeated 19 to 7. David Wall was named Bronco of the week.



Next Pater Noster came to Banning. In this game there were many injuries. Quarterback Greg Mummy suffered a broken ankle early in the game and was lost for the rest of the season. Al Clark then stepped in and spurred the team to a 6 to 0 victory. Jim Lugo was honored Bronco of the week.

On the road again, the Broncos traveled to play the Gladstone Gladiators. This game was the only Saturday game the Broncos have ever played and many will want to forget it. The smog made the game a misery. The Broncos never got started and lost 14 to 0. Leroy Jordan got Bronco of the week honors.



On the night of October 1 the Cowboys from Cajon came into Banning. It was a hard game in which the Broncos suffered more injuries. In the 34 to 6 defeat the Broncos ended the pre-league season. Albert Evans received Bronco of the week.

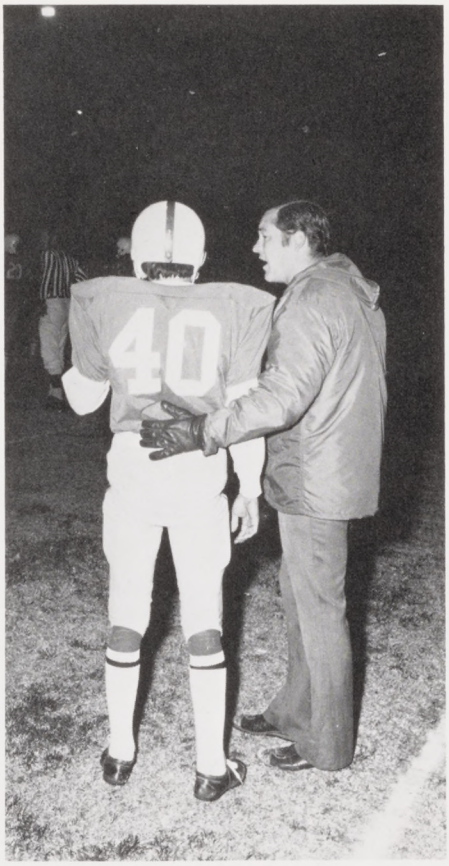
Homecoming and all the excitement didn't seem to help the Broncos as they went down to a 12 to 0 defeat to the San Jacinto Tigers. Dan Whitaker was honored Bronco of the week. The Broncos were determined to pull themselves together.

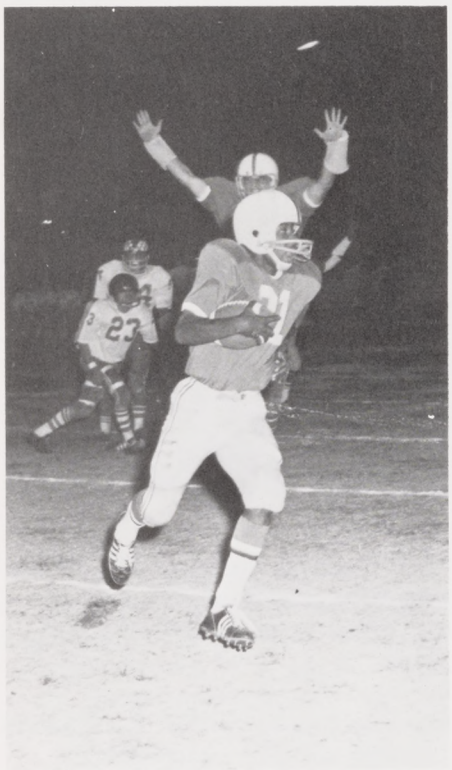
The Broncos had to get back in the race for the league title.

On the cold night of October 29 the Broncos traveled to Elsinore to meet the Tigers. By outstanding defense the Broncos won 14 to 6. They had just started their way upward. Leroy Jordan received Bronco of the week.

Home again, the Broncos hosted their arch rivals, the Beaumont Cougars. Fighting for the "King of the mountain" trophy, which has always been in Banning, the Broncos again proved themselves too tough for the Cougars in a 12 to 0 victory. Sam Barfoot received Bronco of the week honors for fine defensive play.

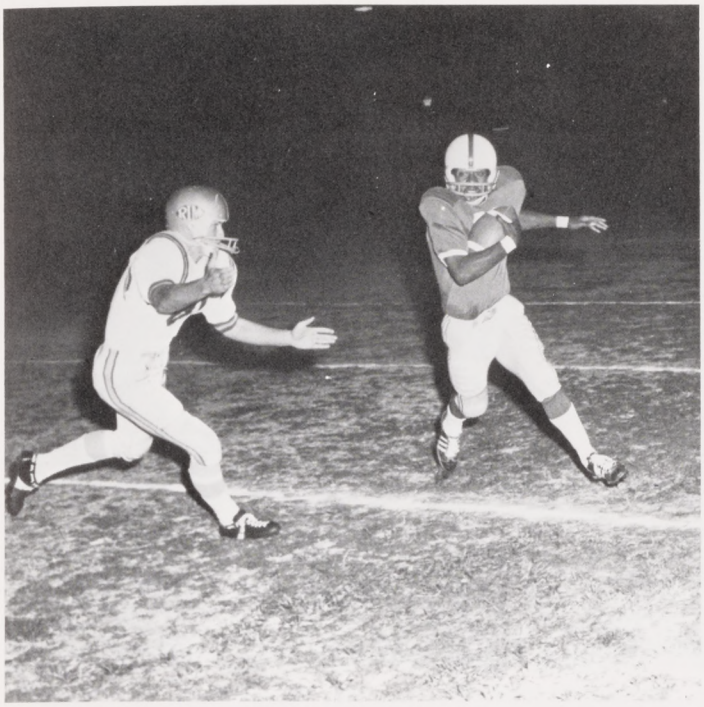
Banning, now in contention for the league title, found themselves fighting for first place on the night of November 12 against the Rim of the World Scots. Rim, who had slaughtered every team faced this year, slipped by the Broncos 12 to 0. Carey Mellor received Bronco of the week honors for his performance of blocking on the line.





The last game of the year for the Broncos was at Perris. The Broncos and the Panthers fought hard and long.

At the end it was a tie 0 to 0. Bronco of the week honors were shared by Oliver McKee and Ray Lara.



After this game the Broncos finished the season with a 3-5-1 record. It's only speculation as to how the Broncos would have fared without the numerous injuries. The 71-72 season is over and the injuries will heal. Watch out next year.

Epilogue

With all the ever increasing questions . . .
We must work together . . .
You and I
To find the answers
To build for a better tomorrow.

I wish to thank everyone who has helped to make this year's annual so good. We owe much to Lane's and McCulloh's Studios for all the pictures. Thank you teachers, administration, advertisers and students for your co-operation and support. I'd also like to thank Pam Doyle for our cover design. But most of all I'd like to thank my advisor, Mr. Jon Miller, and my staff who worked so hard to make this the best book ever.

Thank You Again ...

Dorothy!
I consider it a real honor to me and my staffs that you have bought a yearbook these past two years.
I hope my staff and I haven't bugged you too much. Have a really good time this summer in Europe and forget Ikes place!
I hope if I find a job teaching next year that the Principal's secretary will be half as nice and as fun to work with as you. Good luck to you and I may be around occasionally next year so I'll hope to see you. — Jon Miller

SENIOR ADVISORS

The senior class has been graced with three exceptional advisors this year, Mr. Lamm, Mrs. Abras, Mr. Dinwiddie.

Mrs. Abras has been a senior advisor for 17 years. She says, "It's always been fun to work with graduating classes, they're always excited. This class has more students ranking above 3.0 than any other class before, but like all senior classes, this one has workers and loafers. Even so, some members have worked exceptionaly hard."

Mrs. Abras says that she really enjoyed working with this class.

Mr. Lamm says that this has been a very exciting class. He has helped the seniors get into college and says "I really appreciated it when they came up to the house to get help in filling out the many forms."

Mr. Lamm recalls when four of the class applied for the National Science Foundation Summer program for outstanding juniors, and the four got 27 acceptances.

He goes on to point out that this is the class that took over half of the state scholarships that the De Anza, league has recieved.

Mr. Lamm says that he liked working with this class.

Mr. Dinwiddie has been a senior advisor for five years. He says this is the one class you get about every four years There are really a large number of very smart students. This is pointed out be the fact that we have gotten so many Scholarships.

He says that as far as working for the senior project, they are about average.

Mr. Dinwiddie thinks the leaders of the class have a good sense of humor, but they aren't practical jokers.

EDITORIAL

The "citizens of tomorrow" are rapidly becoming the "citizens of today." "The future leaders" are hardly finished with their high school leadership and are ready to assume their positions in the "outside world" now.

Our 12 years of school, neatly described as "preparion for the outside world, are behind us now. The class of '72' is about to be pushed out of the nest, and society has decreed that we are ready for the baby-sitting to cease.

Speaking as a "future leader" I would like to say what I think of my twelve years of school.

Some of my friends say that they feel that their 12 years have been wasted. I can't say that. How could I say that when I have learned so much?

I have learned that honesty only gets me into trouble, and lying will get me out of it.

I have learned that words like "democracy," "equality," and "freedom" are just that—— only words.

I have leaned not to stick my neck out for anyone or anything, because it does no good and very often does only harm.

I have learned that money goes where the power is, not where the necessity is.

If the rest of my class hasn't learned these things, it could only be because they spent their time planning their futures with useless idealism. They should have been paying attention while the school was trying to "prepare us for the outside world."

All the classes have been "prepared" like that. They have been frustrated in their ambitions for a more ideal school life, and have been put down for idealism untill there is no more idealism in them.

Each class, by the time that graduation arrives, is apathetic and pessiristic.

The schools are certainly doing their job, which is preparing students for life in the outside world. However, as long as students are "prepared for the outside world" the way that our class was prepared, the "outside world" will never change for the better.

Executive Column

High schools should strive to manitain the highest possible quality of education. If this is not done, the purpose of secondary education is lost Sports and other outside activities are of great importance, but to place them above education is again defeating the purpose of having high schools.

The administration of Banning High school was recently faced with a controversey that accused it of over emphasizing atheletics. Whether or not this was or is true, is purely a matter of opinion. The problems facing education and its quality at Banning High are ones which stem from problems with next year's budget and selfish dislike. It seems the administration has taken it upon itself to propose monetary and personnel cutbacks. This is to be expected, for it is one of the duties of the administration. But if the administration should disregard the overwhelming opinion of faculty and student body, what can be done? If the administration disregard the quality of education because of personal opinion and dislike, what can be expected? In the coming years it will be the administration who will be responsible for complaints from angry taxpayers and former students who have observed the deterioration of education. I only hope the administration will reconsider what is important.

by Kevin Dinwiddie
A.S.B. President, 1972

'72 Achievements

On this column the reporter went around school and asked, people what the students at B.H.S. achieved besides sports. Thirteen of sixteen people said nothing. Two of the answers were: a new bus and new problems.

It's true that every year there are new problems but believe it or not B.H.S. is better off than many schools in California. B.H.S. did achieve this year and proof of that is more seniors recieved more and better scholorships this year. There are two students from B.H.S. planning to attend, Stanford University. Our student body is thought to be one of the best. The P.E. department has individualized two P.E. classes.

There is also the debating team, which had an impressive victory over Beaumont. And Banning did well in the Secondary Youth Conference.

The athletic departmen achieved in the following; two D.A.L. championships (Baseball and Basketball), two all C.I.F. players- Leroy Jordon in football and Bob Chubb in Basketball. Five members on the track team qualified for C.I.F. compitition (Ken McKee, David Bird, Ron Norman, Mark Echols and Tom Davidson). Jim Lugo and Greg Hummy made all league players of the year in baseball.

LETTER FROM MR. AVINA

To: Members of the Class of 1972

Well, it's almost over and you're about to undertake what will, perhaps, be the most traumatic change in your life. You're going to graduate. You've put in your four years at Banning High and we hope that when you receive your diploma on June 14 that you can look back on those four years with pride. Maybe your feelings now that you are leaving will be of concern for the betterment of the entire school program. No high school is ever perfect--and Banning is no exception. But, you can still help by the concern that you will evidence in the future. You are certainly welcome to meet with me or with my staff and to help with suggestions for improvement of the school.

This class has a right to be proud of its achivements. Not only do you have two members who maintained a straight A average, but you have others who achieved in areas of art, music, drama, athletics and speech.

We are proud of your two members who are recipients of the Bank of America Achievement Award. As you can see, membership in the class of 1972 is certainly something you should be proud to have achieved.

Some of you will be going on to college. Others of you will be going into the world of work. We are proud of all of you and will look forward to your contributions and achievements in the years ahead.

Good luck and best wishes for a successful future.
